Automobile License Tags Now On Sale

Vehicle tags for 1962 went on sale Monday in the Sheriff's office. Mrs. Gerald V. Price Jr., deputy tax clerk, reported approximately 200 tags were sold Monday.

The new tags feature maroon numerals on a white background. A new type license tag and a modified tax system has been adopted in Mississippi, Mrs. Price continued.

Each passenger car tag, she explained, will carry a weight classification numeral - A, B, C or D and will bear the number 23 which is Hancock County's alphabetical ranking in the state. The name of Hancock County is also inscribed on the license plate.

Tag numbers begin at 1 in each weight classification in each county in the state.

Mrs. Price cited the class A tags will be issued to vehicles weighing up to 1,800 pounds. This covers most small foreign-made vehicles and several small American cars.

Class B is for vehicles in the 1,800 to 3,000 pound weight classification. This takes in such cars as Falcon, Corvair, Lark and Valiant.

Class C is for vehicles in the 3,000 to 4,000 pound weight classification. This includes regular Chevrolets, Fords and several other smaller models in the big car line.

Class D is for all cars over 4,000 pounds in weight, which includes Chrysler, Cadillac, Lincoln and other large, heavy cars.

The weight classifications are figured by tax deputies from the State Tax Commission.

The price of passenger tags will be determined by the vehicle weight classification only, Mrs. Price continued, rather than by power-factor as in the past.

Applicants are asked to present their 1961 tax receipt together with their filled-in application for a license.

Persons renewing their license tags for the same vehicle they had last year, are not required to answer questions on the application form, regarding sales tax or use tax; however, they should correctly show the make such as Ford, etc., the year manufactured, model or series, number of cylinders, motor or serial number and the body type.

Mrs. Price is asking that persons requiring vehicle tags come to the office rather than phone as this will not only avoid errors, but will save time in the issuance of tags.

The license renewal period ends October 31 and Sheriff Gerald Price is asking all vehicle owners to renew their licenses during October to avoid paying a penalty.

WINTER CHAZING PRACTICAL FOR DAIRY HEIFERS

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. — Winter grazing is economical feed for dairy calves, according to results of recent tests on two branch Experiment Station in Mississippi. Superintendent Louis Walton used oats in his test at the Black Belt Branch Station at Brooksville. He put five 7-day-old Jersey heifers on oat forage and compared their performance to a similar group of five calves fed in the barn.

When the calves were four months old, there was little difference in weights or daily gains between the two groups. Pasture calves average 197 pounds each and barn calves 189. Feed costs for the barn group averaged $7 each compared to $5 for the pasture group. These costs do not include the 380 pounds of milk supplied per calf in each group.

At North Mississippi Branch Station at Holly Springs, Agronomist B. L. Arnold used ryegrass

in the winter test and in three years of testing Jersey heifers 4 to 8 months made good gains at a cost of cents per pound of gain. Calves per acre per day were stocked with an average of 2.1 calves per acre. Gains were averaged 167 pounds for three-year period.

"Dairymen in many areas are limited in acreage," Mr. Walton said. "But when land area is available, the use of winter pastures to grow replacement heifers provides a way, during part of the year, to grow them cheap with a minimum of labor."

Reports of these experiments from the two branch stations are included in the September issue of Mississippi Farm Research available on request from the Agriculture Experiment Station at State College, Miss.

There were 14,009,009 tons of paper and paperboard products manufactured in 1960 by mills in the 15 states comprising the South Atlantic, East Central and West Central regions.

A GOOD JOB

Billy's getting bigger, and Susie's catching up. And Mom—like any proud mother—is delighted. Their physical progress is one indication that she's doing a good job.

But is she being just as careful about other, equally vital parts of that job? Is she also measuring their spiritual progress? As it happens, she is. Billy and Susie are both already going to church and church school.

If you have been thinking that your own children are too young to begin their religious education, why not give them the chance to measure up spiritually, as well as physically? They're apt to surprise you!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Keep Mississippi Beautiful" Is Theme As State Leadership Initiates Program

Governor Barnett's state-wide committee to "Keep Mississippi Beautiful" has started its important task in earnest with the group's first organizational meeting in Jackson.

Formal approval of a program set up by Chairman Baxter Wilson and Vice Chairman Mrs. Mike Conner climaxed the initial committee meeting and set into action a movement designed to put the state's great natural beauties in a most attractive light.

Enthusiasm High

Highlighting the meeting was the enthusiasm and eagerness of participating state leaders to push ahead with an ambitious program of maintaining and enhancing the excellent overall appearance of the state and its subdivisions.

The group voted to give its executive committee the responsibility for developing financing plans. Members of this important executive group include the officers, Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Conner; Joe Bullock, A&I Board Director; Felder Dearman, Chairman of the State Highway Commission; Dr. A. L. Gray, chief executive officer of the State Board of Health; Mrs. Walton Gresham, Indianapolis, past chairman of State Roadside Parks; and Mrs. Everett Slayden, president, Garden Clubs of Mississippi.

Leaders Emphasize Value

The meeting was keyed by Governor Barnett and Mr. Wilson, both of whom emphasized the necessity of keeping Mississippi beautiful for tourists, industrial prospects, and all citizens of the state.

FOR A MORE BEAUTIFUL STATE.—"Colonel Clean" will be the official symbol for the Governor's "Keep Mississippi Beautiful" campaign in an effort to challenge the state's citizens to assist in maintaining and enhancing Mississippi's great natural beauties. Viewing the lively figure at the recent kickoff meeting for the group are the state's leaders of the worthwhile project. (Left to right) Vice Chairman Mrs. Mike Conner, State Chairman Baxter Wilson, "Colonel Clean", and Governor Ross Barnett. Prominent civic and government leaders throughout the state are participating in this effort to put Mississippi's best foot forward.

"Keep Mississippi Beautiful" (Clean and Green) was the motto officially adopted, along with a lively figure of "Colonel Clean", which will be used as symbols of the KMB program.

Objectives Given

In Chairman Baxter Wilson's keynote speech, committee objectives for the program were given in a pointed challenge to each citizen of the state. Mr. Wilson said: "The purpose of the committee is to conduct or assist in conducting a continuous statewide program of education against the discarding of litter other than at authorized disposal sites; to serve as a coordinating agency through which business and industry, government, and public and private organizations may work together to solve a common problem for the benefit of the state and all of its people."

Personal Responsibility

"To use all possible channels of communications and education for improving the personal attitudes and habits of the individual citizen with respect to his responsibility for preventing litter; to encourage and assist in developing voluntary community improvement through enlightened leadership thereby creating a greater pride and appreciation of our state through good citizenship; and, to preserve and develop a cleaner, a greener, and a More Beautiful Mississippi."

MISSISSIPPI STATE FAIR GETS UNDERWAY OCTOBER 9th, 1:00 P.M.

Mississippi's biggest show of the year officially gets underway at 1:00 p.m. Monday, October 9, when all exhibits and amusement features of the 1961 Mississippi State Fair will be opened to the public. Regardless of age, there's something to see and enjoy for everyone at this exciting event, often called the "show window" of Mississippi agriculture and industry.

More than 90 outstanding displays and booths will be presented in the exhibit building located near the orange-colored turnstile gates at the front of the Fair grounds. Fair visitors this year will be glad to note that the entire midway has been paved, from front to back gate, and that all of the cattle barns, including the new barns, are connected by covered walkways.

A wide variety of entertainment and amusement has been planned for Fair Week with the highlights scheduled as follows. Opening Day is also Press Day, when Legislators are to be observed on Tuesday, October 10, along with Veterans and all service organizations day. State, County and Municipal government officials as well as civic organizations will be recognized on Institutional Day, Wednesday, October 11, while October 12 is to be Farmers' and Livestock Day and Aviation Day. A salute to the youngsters of the state will take place Friday, October 13, which is traditionally set aside as School Day. On this day the gala Children's Day parade with beautiful floats and marching bands is to be held in downtown Jackson. On the final day of the exposition, Saturday, October 14, Mississippi travelers will be spotlighted.

Many attractions compete for the fairgoer's attention this year. The livestock building and nearby judging arena are a "must" for many, while the commercial-minded visitor will enjoy the exhibits in the Industrial Building. In the Woman's Work Department, there will be top quality examples of food preservation, arts and crafts. The Floral Department will have an outstanding exhibit again this year as will the 4-H and FFA organizations.

The ever-popular mile-long midway, will again feature the sensational Royal American Show with more than 50 titles and shows including the popular "Harlem Revue," the musical Club Jido, show and many others.

Admission to the fairgrounds for person over 12 years old is fifty cents; children between the ages of 6 and 12 are admitted for 25 cents, with those under 6 free when accompanied by a paid ticket holder. On Friday, School Day, all school children will be admitted for 25 cents.

CONSTANT GRAZING
BEST FOR STEERS
ON WINTER PASTURE

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. — Constant grazing with no additional feed proved to be the most profitable method of managing steers on winter pasture in recent test at the Brown Loam Branch Experiment Station near Raymond, Miss.

Part-time grazing with increased stocking rates and no additional feed produced greater gains per acre but lower gains per animal. This resulted in lower profits.

Where two steers per acre were grazed one-half day and fed nine pounds of corn per head daily, 636 pounds of beef were produced but a loss of $26.48 per acre occurred. This compares to 351 pounds of beef produced with constant grazing and a profit of $14.52 per acre.

These results were reported by E. G. Morrison, Superintendent of the Brown Loam Station. His annual report is published in the September issue of Mississippi Farm Research available on request from the Experiment Station.

Lightweight steer calves were more profitable than heavy ones. Calves weighing 267 pounds stocked at a rate of 1.75 animals per acre were compared to one 475-pound calf per acre. Light calves produced 497 pounds and a profit of $47.88 per acre. Heavy calves produced 351 pounds and $14.52 per acre.

In another test under way at the station, feeding cottonseed meal to steers on late summer pasture is producing good gains. One pound of meal per day failed to increase gains, but two pounds boosted daily gains one-half pound per steer. In this test the supplemental feeding begins on July 1.

Kantcha Ketchum

The cold front which came here Tuesday effected fishing to some extent. Fish always seem to know when a change in the weather is coming. However green trout were still striking Monday but fishing will not be too good for a couple of days. However cooler weather always makes fishing better. The water is cooler and the fish fight with vim.

Green trout have been caught for the past three weeks on bait and artificial flies and plugs.

Speckles are still being caught in the marshes. Reports of good catches came in this week.

A pleasure to meet Chas Fudge, ship engineer and a resident of the Bay. Chas has been all over the world and has a large collection of various things including 2 young Typhon from India. He says they are like the Boar Constrictor and grow to enormous size. Really they are non-poisonous and kill their prey by squeezing them to death. They give off no odor and are hard to be detected by animals, their main food. They fall from trees and surprise their prey. Mr. Fudge says he intends to give the snakes to the zoo in New Orleans. He is here on vacation.

Eddie Doyle and family are newcomers to the Bay. They are from New York way and expect to remain here. Eddie took part in most sports and expects to do some fishing, etc.

The waters up Jordan River and bayou are really bad just now — should clear up soon. Speckles, red fish green trout, etc., should striking soon. Should have some good trolling this winter in this area.

For you fly fishermen, green trout should start hitting under-water baits with the cooler weather. Popular baits are the Black Knats, spinner and pork rind; shimmy wiggler; silver spoons and sidewinders. Of course there are numerous others. Ask most anyone of our local fly fishermen, they know what to use.

The dove season that just closed wasn't too hot, that is in number of birds killed. The second season should be much better.

Clermont Harbor Resident Passes On

Jacob P. Usher, 78, died at Clermont Harbor, Miss. Sunday, October 1, at 8:00 p.m. He was the husband of the late Henrietta Schwartz Usher; father of August Usher, Clermont Harbor and the late Mrs. T. J. Bourgeois; step-father of Clarence Stringer of New Orleans.

Other survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Clara Hatcliffe of Bethesda, Md., and Mrs. Edward Parr of Lakeshore, Miss., 10 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from Fahey-Whitfield Funeral Home Monday at 2 p.m. with religious rites at Clermont Harbor Methodist Church at 2:30 p.m.

Interment was in Bayou Caddy Cemetery, Ansley.

Imports of foreign steel into the U. S. rose to a new high of 4.4 million net tons in 1960, 28 times the 1947-49 annual level. In 1959 exports of American steel fell to 1.5 million tons, 68 per cent below the 1947-49 level.

plish the feat. Dick Tarleton local pro at Pass Christian played in the tournament and placed 12th on the list. Better luck, Dick, next time.

Its rather sorry to hear some criticize the size of speckles being caught. They can't all be record breakers but they are still good eating.

According to frog catchers, plenty of frogs are being caught in the Pearl River section. They are big and delicious eating!

We think we have some hard fishing laws regarding catching of game fish. Nolan Ladner, who just returning from his vacation out Colorado way gives us a few of that state's fishing laws:

Donation of fish — donation of fish must take place at residence of donee (recipient), a donation certificate must be attached to fish. No person may take and donate fish in excess of the limit to which he (the donor) is lawfully entitled.

Permission is required to fish on private property, whether posted or unposted. Bag possessions and size limits — the daily bag and possession limit of trout shall be six fish per day on trout, Kokanee salmon, and Grayling.

Plenty of ducks were seen this weekend in the Pearl River section. Rather discouraging — the bag limit has been lowered to 2 ducks and the duck stamps raised to $3.00. There should be plenty of ducks left at that rate!

Board Of Health Keeping Check On Fall-Out In Mississippi

"The State Board of Health is keeping a 24-hour check on radioactive fall-out in Mississippi," said Dr. A. L. Gray, Executive Officer.

"If there is any indication of health hazards, the public will be alerted at once in order to take whatever precaution are necessary."

Even though Public Health Service reported that the Pascagoula area had the nation's highest concentration of fall-out in the nation on Tuesday September 19, there is no cause for alarm, Dr. Gray assured Mississippians.

"A peak of radioactivity in our state was reached on Tuesday, but it is subsiding," he reported.

The State Board of Health is the official agency for detecting and analyzing radiological data for the state, and people should not be alarmed by reports coming from other sources within or without the state, according to the state health officer.

A full-time radiation control was initiated by the Board of Health, July 1960, headed by Robert A. Rester, an Atomic Energy Commission-trained radiation physicist.

"Through expensive instrumentation and analytical procedures performed in our laboratory by a competent staff, we can separate the radioactive contamination in air filters and accurately assess conditions," said Rester.

In accounting for the increased amount of fall-out in Mississippi, Rester said: "We speculate that hurricane Carla forced air masses in a different than normal flow. It stopped the cold air that was moving down and the fall-out remained more or less stationary for a short period."

Rester said that when the Russian resumed atomic testing that the State Board of Health began a 24-hour a day fall-out sample in the two air sampling stations the Board operates. One of the stations is located in Pascagoula and the other in Jackson.

"We make our own analyses here in our well-equipped laboratory, and also forward samples to the Public Health Laboratory in Rockville, Maryland, in cooperation with the nation-wide surveillance program," explained Rester.

Daily preliminary information—of a qualitative rather than quantitative nature—has also been called in to Washington from the State Board of Health.

The two public health air sampling stations were established several years ago, and routinely samples have been submitted for laboratory analysis in order to evaluate pollution problems in these two strategic areas.

"In time of stress or disaster our air sampling goes on round-the-clock, seven days a week," stated Rester.

In addition to air samples, the State Board of Health routinely takes water, vegetation, milk and plankton samples from the Mississippi estuary for radiological examination.

"None of these has shown enough increase in radioactivity in the recent weeks to cause concern," said Rester.

Hot production could offer promising new range opportunities in Mississippi agriculture. Packing plants in the state had to import some 400,000 hogs during the past twelve months, which means that dollars had to be sent beyond the border of the state to meet demands. Many agricultural leaders see promising long range opportunities for hog production.

Strong-Bordelon Wedding

Miss Joy Ann Bordelon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Paul Bordelon, was married to Mr. Richard Burton Strong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Charles Strong of Bay St. Louis, Miss., on Saturday, September 30, 1961, in Holy Name of Jesus on St. Charles Avenue, New Orleans.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk organza, with yoke of Chantilly lace and a sabrina neckline re-embroidered in seed pearls. The full skirt had inserts of lace, and ended with a band of lace, then fell softly into a chapel train. Her short bridal veil was attached to a coronet of seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of roses, stephanotis, and English ivy.

The bridal attendants, Misses Lynn Slocovich and Gayle Bordelon, cousins of the bride, wore American Beauty chiffon dresses, with draped necklines and full skirts, and wore matching coronets with small veils. They carried pale pink carnations.

The flower girl, Miss Catherine Franklin, also a cousin of the bride, wore a short dress of pink organza and a coronet of sweetheart roses in the American Beauty shade, and carried an old-fashioned bouquet to match.

Mr. Strong's attendants were Messrs. Joseph Bailey, III, and Billy West Tatum, of Hattiesburg, Mississippi. The ushers were Mr. Stanley P. Dwell, and Mr. Alexander B. Bell, Jr., cousin of the groom.

The reception was held in Maywood Manor. The bride's mother, Mrs. James P. Bordelon, received her guest in a sheath dress of pale pink organza, having a bodice of matching Chantilly lace with neckline re-embroidered in seed pearls and bugle beads. Her hat was fashioned of pink berries and leaves, with a small veil. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Ernest C. Strong, mother of the groom, who wore a pale green, peau de soie, sheath dress with an over drape skirt, caught up at the waist line in the back with a rose of the same material. Both mothers wore gardenia corsages.

For traveling, the bride chose a suit of peacock blue with matching hat and navy accessories, and a corsage of white sweetheart roses. The young couple are honeymooning in Florida.

Visiting last weekend with Mrs. Randolph Pourgeois were Mrs. Charles Triana and brother Edward Allnet of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Mercedes Roig of New Orleans.

Mrs. Triana who remained for a longer visit, and Mrs. Pourgeois were guests the past weekend of Mrs. Triana's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Maus, at their summer home in Waveland.

TREE FARM PROGRAM

Co-operating in Mississippi's tree farm program are all agencies whose work touches upon forestry. The state program includes more than 2,900 tree farms with over 2.7 million acres of private woodlands. In addition to forest products, tree farm are supplying important benefits to recreation, food and cover for wildlife, and soil and water conservation. Mississippi's national leadership in this activity is eloquent proof that the tree farm program is paying handsome dividends on an increasingly substantial scale.
